and growth for future generations.*

Well it's been a challenging and wonderful term. I've really enjoyed getting to know our learners and their families. Thank you for taking the time to come and talk about the wonderful learning your child has been doing in the classroom at our parent teacher interviews this week.

The whakatauki above reminds me that we all work together to make a place for our children in the future. It's a timely reminder that the world is not ours, but our children's. May we continue to foster this knowledge for our children in the coming months.

I wish you and your whānau a restful holiday break. Let's hope the children return next term ready for a whole new term of learning.

Ngā mihi nui,
Caley

Celebration of Learning

What a wonderful Matariki we've had as a community this year. It was the first Matariki public holiday in New Zealand. It was amazing to get together and celebrate with our Whānau.

Our wonderful friends at Nukuhakari Station held a hāngi. The food was amazing. Well done to the tamariki for stepping up to learn how to cook such a delicious meal. Special mention to Tahlia for standing up to say the Karakia for the meal. Ka mau te wehi Tahlia!

The children have been learning all about the different stars of Matariki, as well as the star Puanga (which is more commonly celebrated in Taranaki as it's a bit tricky to see Matariki from our end).
